In honor of Martin Luther King, Jr., our students participated in different educational activities. The pictures below display their activities that helped them understand the positive impact he made on our country. The upper grades studied Dr. King's message of freedom and equality along with Amanda Forman's "The Hill We Climb" speech and read aloud the book "The Sweet Smell of Roses" by Angela Johnson.

Adopt-a-Family Update:

We would like to thank our amazing community for their support of our Adopt-a-Family Program. Local churches, businesses, sororities, families, individuals, college students, past and present NLES teachers, aides and subs, and even our very own NLES students came together to support our students in need of a little extra holiday cheer. We had 111 children in 45 families that were blessed by the generosity of others. The North Liberty American Legion supported all the families with a bag of food and gift at Aldi's. We would like to give a huge thank you to Julie Brinkoff for donating her time to help with picking up and dropping off gifts.

My Science class was selected to be one of the special "on camera" guests yesterday for the World Wildlife Fund Classroom event. We were 'live on camera' with a class from Miami, Florida, our host in Maryland, and the speaker in Texas, along with many other people and classes from around the country watching. Our students did great! UMS was well prepared with good questions ready to ask and were all very attentive and respectful. It was wonderful to see a young lady doing so much for the environment and helping to encourage our students to feel like they could make a difference as well. Alexia was really showing the students what it is like in other parts of the world. This proved to be a great tie in between Science and Social Studies by using the systems available to us to help curb environmental damage. She was even present at the recent COP26 that my students were studying and reenacting to attend in my class. If you would like to see the event, it is available for viewing at https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=e6_uZbakkhs - Heather Nimon

RECOGNITIONS:

Falloween profit is $49,083.15 . The John Glenn Scholarship committee will review applications later on in the spring for our awards night in May. We try to keep some many back for the future in case of bad weather and some seed money for the next Falloween.Thanks to all for their help with Falloween.

The Aerial Literary Magazine received an award from last years edition. Aerial: Magic, Monsters and Mythos, has been selected to receive the rank of REALM First Class in the 2023 NCTE Recognizing Excellence in Art and Literary Magazines (REALM) program. The students work very hard on the Aerial and it is an example of excellence with cross curricular activity at the high school.

Everwise Bi County

Congratulations to the JV Girls Basketball team and Varsity Boys basketball team for winning the 2024 Everwised Bi County tournament. We were able to navigate the weather and win each of those tournaments. Chase Miller won the MVP award. Sophia Romer and Chase Miller represented the school well as the WB Hawkins Award nominees. Congratulations Falcons!

Manufacturing Class at the high school constructed Cornhole boards and designed those for each school in the corporation.Mr. Stanley and Mrs. Stanley designed and printed the boards and the manufacturing class from the 2022-2023 constructed the boards. Mr. Stanley's class has designed benches, picnic tables, and cornole boards over the past couple of years. These contributions have made an outstanding impact on the grounds of the JGSC.

Vision Statement:

The John Glenn High School Community provides a positive learning environment, where students are actively engaged and motivated to learn, where mutual respect is shared by students and staff, and where students gain the skills needed to become productive members of society.
